Proficiencies

I am very competent in the use of Photoshop, Dreamweaver and Illustrator as well as XHTML, CSS, SEO and Concrete5 CMS. I have also gained much experience with Windows based servers whilst helping with the maintenance of in-house web hosting, email services as well as general IT support.

On top of my IT skills, I have also picked up many other useful skills whilst working at Pyrotechnology including soldering electrics, building hardware i.e. effects controllers, planning and designing shows including programming of electronic firing systems as well as completing more administrative jobs such as order fulfilment, arranging deliveries and returns, invoicing and general use of accounts system.

Personal Profile

I am highly motivated in my work and I especially like being creative and finding new ways for improvement. Creativity is a driving element in my life and I possess a real attention to detail when it comes to design.

I have good communication skills and really enjoy being an active participant of a working team; I am also very reliable, honest and punctual as well as being a good problem-solver.

I am also fluent in speaking French as both my parents are French natives.
